The Dyeing Confederate.

BY A VIRGINIA LADY. I am dyeing! Hessie, dyeing!
Boils the kettle hot and fast,
With the bark of plum and walnut,
Gathered in the days long part.
Reach a hand; oh, Hessie, help me;
Cease thy gigde and look here;
Notice this great pile of carments
Thou and I alone would wear.

Though my torn and faded dresses
Lose their blackness more and more,
And my well-worn shawls and stockings And my well-work stands and so things
Tell how war has made me poor;
Though no glittering silks are with them,
Craved by every woman's will—
I must mend, and change and alter—
Dye my Sunday garments still.

Let not Fashion's heartless daughters Let not Fashion's heartless daughters
Mock this crape—this "garb of woe;".
Twas no woman's hand that tore it—
Twas a Yankee soiled it so.
Haste, then, Hessie, bring your dresses;
Erst, like mine, they were, and gay;
Throw them into this big kettle,
Throw them of the throw away. They're too good to throw away.

Should the rich folks, who have plenty,

Should the rich loiss, who have please.

Sneer at bark dyes in the towns;
We will say, if they don't like them,
Let them send us better gowns.

I must dye my web of linsey,
To be woven for the spring;
Judy waiteth for her filling—
And this color is—" the thing."

So, be quick, my laughing Hessie!
Gather up our mournful pile;
Don't expect to light that dry wood
With the splendor of thy smile.
Hand me here those capes and dresses,
Take thy veil and traps with mine;
So, we'll be in style nort Sunday—
Triumph in that cloak of mine!

This is dyeing, Hessie! dyeing! Starts a tear-drop in thine eye? Wipe it off, my bonnie Hessie! Tatters are not worth a sigh. Tatters are not worsh a sign.
See! that stick will break! that kettte!
Hessie, dear! this is the knell!
Cherished hopes the dyo is thrown!
"Reconstruction!" fare thee well!

To the Honorable the Mayor and Aidermen of the City of Charleston:

GENTLEMEN:—By request of the Charleston Boarl of Fire Underwriters, I beg leave to bring to jour attention the fact that the article of petroleum oil called by diver's names as rock oil, kerosine, benzine, benzole, and a variety of other appelatives, has been introduced into our community as an article of merchandise, and kent on munity as an article of merchandise, and kept on storage and for sale in larger quantities than is storage and for sale in larger quantities than is consistent with the public safety. Experience has shown that when this substance is kept in large quantities in close, unventilated stores or cellars, the gas which evolves from it, and is confined in the building, becomes very dangerous indeed, so that if a light be brought in contact with it, a terrible explosion would take place, setting fire to the building, and those adjacent to it. As its specific gravity is lighter than water, this oil, when ignited, is not extinguishable by water. We beg to refer you to the enclosed printed Circular, containing the results of scientific investigations as to the nature of this oil, both in the United States and in England.

The object of this communication is to call the The object of this communication is to call the attention of your honorable body to this dangerous article, which, wherever it is stored in larger quantities than five barrels, is highly dangerous to property, and has also frequently proved fatal to human life. Surely, if it be required by the public weal that the storage of uaval stores should be restricted by law, within certain prescribed localities there is vastly more reason that a similar vastly more reason that a similar restriction should be applied to an article so much more inflammable and dagerous.

If appears that when stored in detached and well ventilated buildings, this oil is much less dangerous, and we would respectfully submit to your consideration the propriety of having the new Fish Market, which is now said to be unoccupied, used for the purpose of storing this article. That building is not only detached, but is well ventilated, and the danger would thereby be much I have the honor to be, gentlemen, Your most obedient servant, WILLIAM B. HERIOT, President of the Board.

OFFICE CITY CIVIL ENGINEER, CITY HALL, April 6, 1867.

To the Honorable Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Charleston.

of Charleston: GENTLEMEN: Agreeably to your resolution passed in Council on the 26th ulumo, and officially communicated to me on the 2d instant, I have exmined the subject ordered, and respectfully sub 1. PLAN OF FORMATION OF ROAD BED. Length of Line—The entire length of Line from the intersection of Spring and Meeting streets to the City Boundary is 7428 feet, or one and a half mile nearly.

Alderman Ravenel, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means, submitted the following report: 2. Sections and Prainage—I propose to divide the drainage of this continued Street-way into (2)

This formation will require that little excavation of the present road bed and generally but light filling. The materials for the fillings will be obtained from the parallel drains, and from the excavations needed to grade this street and other streets intersecting it, and from the marl beds adjacent.

The whole graded surface to the dimensions, adjusted to the requirements of your resolution, will be carefully rammed. This general plan of fornation will be the same in all respects for either of the road coverings proposed, except, as stated, face.

The planks shall be thirty-three feet long, and shall be laid in a diagonal fo the axis of the street, and shall bear flush upon these sills, and be spiked thereto with six inch spikes.

For the more complete intelligence of this whole plan, I beg leave to refer you to the detailed drawings in plan, section, and isometric herewith furnished and submitted.

The relative value of these roads, however, will be in great measure dependent on the wear and tear, and this will be represented clearly by the annual cost of repairs.

The plank covering will sustain in this climate

Ine plank covering will sustain in this climate an average duration of about seven years for the best materials. The magnitude of repairs will begin after the fourth year to become quite large, and the entire renewal must be accomplished by the end of the eighth year. The renewal of the plank road is then a neces-The renewal of the plank road is then a necessary and perpetual continuance every eighth year. In the case of shells, the process of destruction is quite different, the renewals are so much annually added to the solid bed of the road, and will be permanently valuable in proportion to the bulk of the materials, and the skill of its application. We have then the annual costs of repairs:

1st of the shell road will be $350 per annum.
2d of the plank road will be $950 per annum.
From which we have the difference in favor of the shell road for the seven years of the rospective shell road for the seven years of the respective wear and tear $600.

And each succeeding seven years this difference will be more and more marked, from the fact that the more frequent renewals of the shells will more and more tend to solidify the permanent roadway; while the plank covering will add nothing whatever beyond its intrinsic and ever changing value. It will be proper to state that for the more prefect and secure drawings of this street that perfect and secure drainage of this street the several brick drains and culverts now existing will equire repairs and renewals, and there will require to be built, for temporary uses, two or three plank ones. The cost of which will be: Repairs of old culverts and construction of new ones—$750. As this item of expenditure is necessary, irrespective of the character of improvement which may be adopted their comparative costs are not thereby adopted, their comparative costs are not thereby affected.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Mayor called the attention of Council to the resolutions complimentary to Mr. George Peabody, adopted at a previous meeting, and read the following acknowledgment of Mr. Peabody: SALEM, March 29, 1867. Hon. P. C. Gaillard, Mayor of Charleston:

Dear Sir: I have the pleasure of acknowledging the re sipt of your favor of the 5th inst., accompanying the resolutions which the City have done me the honor to pass, and as I have already explained to Mr. Hastie, in regard to an invitation from the Board of Trade. I should have replied earlier, but for their having been missent to South Danvers, Mass., and, consequently, having only been received by me since my late return from New York.

I am more than gratified at the evidence I have received of the deeply felt appreciation, by the people of the South, of my efforts to accomplish what I may be able to do for their benefit and in the great work of Education, and I rejoice to find broughout the South, and I may indeed say broughout our nation, an earnest desire to co-operate with the gentlemen I have named as Trus ees, and to afford them every possible assistance in the duties they have undertaken. And I am especially pleased to receive this warm hearted testimonial from the citizens of Charleston, where I have had many friends, and where I recall with many pleasant recollections the hospitalities. talities I received on my visit ten years ago.

I am, very respectfully and truly, Your obedient servant, GEORGE PEABODY, A Bill to provide for instruction in Modern Languages in the College of Charleston came up for its second reading, which it received. The same specially annually appropriated for the purpose of instruction in Modern Languages in the College of Charleston; the plan to be arranged, and the sum expended under the authority of the Trustees of said College.

Alderman Ravenel, Chairman of the Committee

The Committee of Ways and Means, in submit 2. Sections and Prainage—I propose to divide the drainage of this continued Street-way into (2) two sections, debouching upon the natural basin or tidal outlet, which is near the centre of this entire distance, and at Station 39, near which is the present large brick culvort. The planes of descent admit of easy and perfect drainage, and side draws or ditches will carry the surface water to the outlet or either hand of the road-way.

3. Formaticn, Materials, &c.—The Street formation will be neade transversely of curved contour, the highest point of which, at the centre, will decay for want of immediate and necessary repairs—the streets imperfectly and but partially lighted, and in bad order, as well as the sidewalks and gutters—tidal and other drains requiring street improvement may be done now, or but such part of it as may be absolutely requisite for its more perfect drainage, and shown by transverse section of readway. The plan and section of street only contemplated the ulterior perfect formation and drainage of the street. Your honorably body will order as to this.

Treasury, as by law these bills could not be resisted, although b und to receive them for all dues of taxes, &c., to the city. This, of course, curtailed the receipt of available money; and although much pressed your Committee could not suggest to Council an increase of taxes to a bill already considered by many as onerous, and suggest to council an increase of tases to and already considered by many as onerous, and porhaps with reason, but nevertheless imperatively necessary. Under circumstances of embarrassment, your committee asked and obtained your consent to the borrowing of money, which they accomplished at a high rate of interest; but it could not be swoided, rate of interest; but it could not be worded, as it was deemed expedient to do this rather than disappoint the creditors of the city, and to vielate its good faith. Large accumulations of arrearages of interest due to the holders of city stocks and bonds, pressed heavily on Council, and public opinion called loudly that this just claim should have it converted to consideration.

have its carnest consideration. Counce therefore passed a bill directing that the said interest should passed a bill directing that the said interest should be funded, and we are glad to say that most of these creditors acceeded.

On the first of April, 1866, just five months after the reestablishment of the city government, we had the satisfaction of paying the quarter's interest due on that day, on the city debt. This, as we had hoped, at once created confidence, reassured our citizens, and imparted an availabity and value to city accurities which no other corporation in o city securities which no other corporation in the State enjoyed.

as it enabled many persons to meet pressing ob-ligations and to provide for their immediate wants. It caused the circulation of inoney, and its whole-It caused the circulation of money, and its wholesome influence was felt throughout the city. It is but justice to our tax payers that we should here state that to their sense of propriety and justice is Council indebted for the means with which they achieved this desirable end. They responded to the call on them for taxes, when they had but eleveler means aboving these strong evidence achieved this desirable that the call on them for taxes, when they had but slender means, showing thus a strong evidence that they supported Counci! in its efforts to fulfil its obligations. We are happy to state that the interess was all paid promptly each succeeding quarter, amounting in all to about three hundred thousand dollars. But, unfortunately, we have had a pressure on us, which, for the moment is discouraging; but we must nerve ourselves and renew our energies in this our hour of difficulty, relying on our honesty of purpose and the support of our citizens. It was a matter of deep regret and of much reflection, and only after the exhausting of every expedient that your Committee asked Council to authorize his Honer, the Mayor, and the City Treasurer, to issue certificates of indebtedness to meet the last quarter's interest. But it was either to do this or to er's interest. But it was either to do this or to deprive the holders of city securities of any way of realizing their interests.

With a floating debt of fifty-five thousand dollars, at an interest of one and a half per cent. a month, we felt as if it was not right or prudent to borrow more money on terms now current, even if it had been possible to obtain it.

We deem it best to state frankly the financial condition of the city, being satisfied that the good sense of our community would sustain us.

In passing the Tax Bill it must be confessed that council was actuated by lenity, and a desire to Council was actuated by lonity, and a desire to make the burthen of taxation as light as possible, and extended the time of final payments to 29th June next, and should any be delinquent then, that an interest, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, was to be charged. Good feeling here ignored our necessities, which required that the last day of payment should have been 1st April on all subjects of taxation, except those provided by law to be paid monthly; moreover the interest, if the tax was not paid then, should be made commensurate with that current. The bill we are about to submit purports putting it on this footing. Council must not forget that the financial changes in our State have been very great since our Tax Bill was passed.

The repeal of the Usury Laws has made money virtually a commodity, and its value enhanced or depressed according to the demands for it. Therefore, our citizens must expect to meet the change and conform to the result effected by it. an interest, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, fore, our citizens must expect to meet the change and conform to the result effected by it.

It may be said that a rate of interest higher than seven per cont. is hard and ruinous to those citizens who are unable to pay their taxes, but we must examine the subject fearles-ly, with a determination to do justice alike to all. The tax payer, who responds promptly, demands at our hands, as his right, that all who enjoy the advantages and protection of the city should be made alike with himself to bear a portion of the public burther.

It has been alleged that Council had been too indulgent to delinquents. It is true Council always leans on the side of mercy, and has extended at times, under circumstances of peculiar distress, an extension of time, which the cases seemed imperatively to demand. It is due to the public to say that the arrearages of taxes during the war, and the taxes of the last year, have been paid almost beyond our expectation, especially when we consider the poverty of our people.

It is almost unnecessary that we should urge on Council the necessity of great economy in the administration of its affairs. Our actual wants are more than we can manage with comfort.

In conclusion we have only to say that all of our efforts to manage with success the finance of the city will be unavailing, unless sustained by the countenance and support of our citizens.

> New York Market. MONEY MARKET.

The New York Journal of Commerce, of Wednesday, April 10th, says:

The market generally presents less animation than usual at this season; although in some classes of produce there is still considerable speculative movement. The dry goods trade is moderately active; the demand is chiefly limited to small lots to replenish assortments. Prices of the most desirable staple production are barely maintained, while for others the tendency is to lower figures. Money continues in active request at 7 per cent. for temporary loans on stock collaterals; and there are comparatively few new transactions upon any kind of securities below this rate. First class commercial paper at short sight is placed at 738 per cent. per annum discount; 10th, says : short sight is placed at 7a8 per cent, per annum discount but there is little currency for names offered at higher ates of interest.

Savannah Market. SAVANNAH, April 11.—COTTON—The market has been exceedingly dull during the past week, and the tendency has been downward, though without much change. Middlings have commanded from 26c to 27c, and to-day we have to quote at 26c. There have been no transactions, holders not being willing to submit to the decline which was demanded by the buyers, and in the hope that the slight advance in gold might have a good result. Holders, however, are of the opinion that it has reached its lowest point, and are anxiously awaiting better advices. ter advices.

In Sea Island there is nothing doing, and it may be said to be dull and nominal. Most of that grade on the said to be dull and nominal. Most of that grade on the market is of an inferior quality, and is not in demand. A better article, however, would command a fair price.

The receipts at this port, since the 4th inst., amount to 3873 bales of Upland, and 154 bales of sea Island. The exports for the same period amount to 1062 bales Upland, and 133 bales Sea Island.

Letter of Rev. E. F. Chang, Chaplain of the 107th New York Regiment: NEAR ACQUIA CF TER, March 4th, 1863 Owing to the great exposure and terrible decomposi-tion after the batile of Anticiam, I was utterly prostrated and very sick. My stomach would not retain mediine. An article called Plantation Bitters, prepared by Dr. DRAKE, of New York, was prescribed to give me strength and an appetite. To my great surprise they gave me immediate relief. Two bottles shaest allowed me to join my regiment. . . . I have since seen them used in many cases, and am free to say, for hospital or private purposes I know of nothing like them.

Bev. R. F. CRANE, Chaplain, Letter from the Bev. N. E. Grans, St. Clairsville, Pa. GENTLEMEN:-You were kind enough, on a former occasion, to send me a half dozzen bottles of Plantation Bitters for $3 50. My wife having derived so macu; benefit from the use of these Bitters, I desire or to continue them, and you will please sand us six bottles more for the money eaclosed. I am, very truly, yours,
